1. The final meeting was held concerning minor revisions of the new form of the Fitness Report.

2. The survey of consumer reaction to the OFC Evaluation Reports has been completed. The results can be presented to Mr. Karamessines at any time.

3. the Benefits and Casualty Division, Office of Personnel, came over to discuss with Chief, A&E an assessment report to be introduced as evidence in deciding whether a former employee's disability claim should be allowed. The employee involved had been sent overseas, had a breakdown. He did put in a claim; this was allowed for a limited period. He is now claiming permanent disability. In pushing his claim through Bureau of Employee's Compensation, Department of Labor, the employee has persistently talked about a three-day examination he had prior to being sent overseas by this Agency. The Medical records had been searched thoroughly and no such record could be found. It finally occurred to the Benefits and Casualty Division that the man was talking about an A&E assessment. Thus, after three years we were contacted. We did have the report. After deletion of certain sensitive operational information, a copy was given was very happy to have this report because the employee's lawyer has made very effective use of "lost records" in pushing the case. It does not appear that the information in the assessment report will help the man's case any. As a matter of interest, is sited as the consultant to the Bureau of Employee's Compensation who will render a professional opinion on the merits of the claim.

4. Chief, A&E and Chief, Assessment Branch held a meeting with Mr. Karamessines to discuss some of his ideas concerning the kinds of questions the A&E Staff should try to answer and the ways this information should be reported. The salient points of this conversation have already been reported to you.
